SHARP RIVALRY AMONG CANDIDATES

All of the Republican Aspirants for Governor Become Quite Active at Carbondale.

HAMLIN AND WARNER MEET.

Attorney General on the Trail of Some of His Opponents-De neen and Lowden Keep Apace.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 24.-Senators Cullom and Hopkins and Lawrence Y. Sherman have not yet arrived at the annual reunion of Southern Illinois Republican politicians and soldiers. Colonel Lowden and Charles S. Deneen, the Chicago candidates, and Attorney General Hamlin, made their appearance during the day.

There was quite a lot of rivalry between Lowden and Dencen as magnets for the growd in the hotel.

Soouts and runners were dispatched to bring in the people and honors were about even between the two. Mr. Dencen was somewhat embarrassed with his handshaking for a time. He has been accustomed to the tips-of-the-finger shake, which is presumed to be fashionable in Chicago. Colonel Lowden evidently had been initiated into the mystery of the ancient straight-from-the-wrist grasp, for he played the game without a break.

Mr. Deneen was in the hands of James Pease of Chicago, who has large interests here, and President Ashiey and Cashier
Ed Mitchell of the First National Eank.
Colonel Lowden had no influential support, and his reception was remarkably well attended.

HAMLIN ON TRAIL

Attorney General Hamlin was on the trail of a combination which threatens trouble for him in his district. For weeks trouble for him in his district. For weeks he has been endeavoring to get Congressman Warner to deciare himself in or out of the gubernatorial race.

Evidence has multiplied lately, showing that the Yates leaders were urging Warner to announce himself. Two candidates in the Shelby-Champaign district would hamper the strongest one of them. This happens to be Hamlin, who is strong in every county in the State. If Hamlin is embarrassed with Warner's candidacy the chances for Yates to secure delegates are enhanced.

Hamlin and Warner met this afternoon.
"Are you, or will you be, a candidate for Governor?" bluntly queried the Attorney General.
"I have not decided," was the cautious reply of the Congressman. "I think it is reply of the Congressman. "I think it is too early to make a decision."

Friends of Judge Hamlin claim to have positive proof that emissaries of Governor Yates are working on Warner's vanity and that half a dozen of them have pledged their influence and votes to Warner as second choice.

Hamlin has many friends here and they are incensed at the vaciliation of Warner.

It is hard to understand the reason, for none of the candidates has formally announced himself, excepting Yates.

This was the big day of the reunion, 5,000 or 5,000 persons being present.

The managers favored Messrs. Logan, Filer and Warner by scheduling them to speak to-day. Yates was given the first day and the Chicago candidates the last, when the crowd is certain to be small.

OVATION FOR MRS, LOGAN, Mrs. Logan received the only ovation of the day when she appeared on the stand. Colonel Lowden appeared a moment later

Colonel Lowden appeared a moment later and was greeted with a reprimand, "You bad boy, where have you been?"

There was singing by a quartet, and Professor Carns told a funny story. Then Captain Sam T. Brush, who operates the only nonunion coal mine in Illinois, delivered an address. He closed by introducing Mrs. Logan, who was given three rousing cheers as the best friend the soldiers of Southern Illinois ever had.

Mrs. Logan's address was an eloquent and frequently pathetic recitation of wartime incidents. Congressman Warner related funny stories for half an hour, and Former Governor Fifer closed the afternoon exercises with a brilliant culogy of soldiers, especial attention being devoted to the life of General Logan. General Horace S. Clark of Mattoon spoke tonight.

The arrivals this afternoon include General James B. Smith, General Powell, Benen Wood and Judge Layman.

REPUBLICAN GATHERING. The officers of the Reunion Association take exception to the statement in to-day's Republic that this is a reunion of Republican office-holders and office-seekers.

"Did you invite any Democrats?" General James S. Martin, president of the associ-

James S. Martin, president of the association, was asked.

"Why, yes," he replied with a broad grin. "We invited everybody to come and camp with us." When it was pointed out that the advertised list of speakers included only Republican office-seekers, excepting General J. C. Black, the president of the reunion excused himself to greet a bunch of comrades.

The fact is that General Martin, General Charles W. Pavey and Colonel Isaac Clements, all of whom are men of influence, organized this association twenty years ago as an adjunct of the Republican party, and they have succeeded in holding their grip on it ever since. They were present to-day and were in command. Once or twice Democratic veterans made feeble efforts to break into the combina-

Once or twice Democratic veterans made feeble efforts to break into the combination, but they were beaten out of sight, and gave it up in disgust.

None of the managers are enthusiastic for Governor Yates's renomination, but as the precedent had long ago been adopted of inviting the Governor to address the reunion, the formality could not well be omitted this year. To offset as much as possible the prestige it would give Yates, all the Republican candidates for Governor were invited. Not a Democrat was asked to address the veterans. Every prominent Republican politician in Southern Illinois was present except a few who are ostensibly for one candidate or another and do not care openly to align themselves just now.

REVENGE ON YATES.

To-day the managers of the reunion took their revenge on Governor Yates for accepting their invitation. They resent the activity of the Governor's employes, who swarmed on the grounds and around the otels yesterday and most of whom have remained over to watch proceeding-when Lowden, Deneen, Fifer, Hamlin and Sherman make their play for popular ap-plause. The Chicago candidates, Deneen and Lowden, have made efforts to get their friends in Southern Illinois to the re-union. Yates did this through his em-ployes, the Chicagoans by the medium ployes, the Christon of letters.

"My Dear Friend." wrote Colonel Lowden. "I will be in Carbondale on the 14th and 25th. Don't fail to call on me while there, as I want to see you sure."

It is commendable for its businesslike

Mr. Deneen's epistle expressed an apol-Mr. Deneen's epistle expressed an apology and explanation for his presente, when he wrote: "Dear Sir: I have been invited to address the soldiers and sallors of Southern Illinois at their reunion at Carbondale on Friday, the 25th inst. In the event that you are at Carbondale on that day it would please me very much to have an opportunity to form your acquaintance. I shall be at the New Hundley Hotel, where I shall be g'ad to see you."

Governor Yates is making a tremendous effort all along the line. He proposes to fill the State Fair Grounds with his friends next week. Here is a sample of the literature he is sowing broadcast in the State: "My Dear Friend: I take it for granted that you will be at the State Fair during the three days beginning Wednesday, September 30. I hope you will not fall to introduce me to such men from your vicinity as may be here at that time."

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS IS SERIOUSLY ILL AT BUFFALO.

Doctor Stockton, Her Physician, Calls Another Doctor Into Consultation-Announces That the Illness, Though Dangerous, Is Not Necessarily Fatal-Patient Has Only Recently Returned From Summer's Stay in Canada.

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Whose serious illness at Buffalo, N. Y., has been announced by her physician.

Davis, widow of the President of the Southern Confederacy, is seriously ill at Castle Inn, in this city. Doctor Charles G. Stockton was sumnoned at noon, when Mrs. Davis's condition alarmed those in attendance.

Late this afternoon another physician was called in for consultation. Doctor Stockton, when leaving the hotel shortly before 6 o'clock, said:

"Mrs. Davis is in a serious condition, but her illness is not of a nature that necessarily must prove fatal. I must be excused from discussing her case further to-night.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 24.-Mrs. Jefferson | To-morrow, perhaps, we will be able to make a statement." Mrs. Davis came to Castle Inn from Port Colborne, Ontario, where she had been spending the summer. A party of friends accompanied her, twenty in all, one of whom is her granddaughter, Miss Lucy W. Hayes of Colorado Springs.

Lucy W. Hayes of Colorado Springs.

It has been Mrs. Davis's custom to spend her summers in Canada, or a Northern resort, living in New York City during the winter months. Her first visit to Canada was made shortly after the close of the Civil War, when she and her husband spent some time in Toronto. Since then the sojourn in Canada has been a frequent occurrence.

of his pleasant berth at Chester last July by Governor Yates. He says Clay County will send up an anti-Yates delegation, and he thought it would be for Judge Hamlin. Richard Sullivan of Springfield, candidate for State Treasurer, was here yesterday. Sullivan is a bright, shrewd young fellow and increased his list of friends. Auditor James S. McCullough, with the empty sleeve that landed his fat office in 1836 and again in 1300, is feeling pulses. He may conclude to stand for Governor, and is believed to be compromise timber, if the time for a compromise ever comes.

Secretary of State James S. Rose lives down this way. He has frequently been mentioned as a candidate for his old office and also for Governor. Rose is modest. He says there are thousands of Republicans in Illinois who never had an office, and he does not propose to hold on forever, unless he is wanted. Still, he would not decline the nomination for Governor. In other words, if there is a demand for him Mr. Rose will obey the summons.

Al Milispaugh, Clerk of the Appellate Court at Mount Vernon, has his eyes set in the direction of the Secretary of State's office. He was elected last year to a good thing for six years, and his activity in office. He was elected last year to a good thing for six years, and his activity in seeking a higher rung thus early is re-garded with coolness. A month ago he was a candidate and flooded the State with circulars.

WAITING FOR SMITH.

Mayor Adderly and Postmaster Tillson Mann of Chester came in last night. Mann is Postmaster at the Penitentiary. They are birds of the same feather and refuse to commit themselves on the Governor proposition until Congressman Smith returns from the Pacific Coast, Smith, by the way, has timed his journey so he will return as soon as this reunion is over. It is not easy to guess whether Judge Messick or Robert E. Mabry is in charge of the squadron of Yates officials left on the ground to guard the Governor's interest. Mabry is in the State Insurance Department and Messick is a trustee of the Soldiers' Home at Quincy. Edward A. Thomas of Belleville accompanies Messick Thomas of Belleville accompanies Messick to add dignity and weight to the occasion. Postmaster Harry Ward of Duquoin is expressing no preferences. He has a habit of keeping the candidates guessing until he discovers a real dead one, and then he steps to that side. That was his experience three years ago, when he tore his linen and ruptured his influence in behalf of Judge Hanecy.

linen and ruptured his influence in behalf of Judge Hanecy.
From Carmi comes George T. Ashley. It is a long and roundabout distance to travel, but if Mr. Ashley can discover the band wagon he will feel that he is repaid. John Douglas of Chester, R. G. Ardrey of Oakdale, ex-Senator Tom Sheridan of Vienna, the veteran J. C. Willis of Metropolis, Senator Burnett of Marion, Colonel A. F. Rodgers of Upper Alton, Colonel Thistjewood of Cairo, J. B. Blackman of Harrisburg and a hungry-looking crowd from Franklin County, composed of Judge Dillon, Postmaster Chenault and others, are engaged in the universal game of feeling the pulse of the people.

WORKING FOR HAMLIN.

WORKING FOR HAMLIN. Judige Gillespie of Vienna is on hand in Hamlin's interest. Captain Cyrus D. Kendali of Newton, a strong Sherman man, is on deck. Colonel George W. Young of Marion, who is usually on the wrong side in a political fight, is distributing speeches of Secretary of the Treasury Shaw in behalf of the oid vet-

Treasury Shaw in behalf of the oid veterans.

Doctor J. B. Young of Golconda, a brother-in-law of Secretary of State Rose, is talking pretty strong against Yates's renomination. He says sam Alschnier would carry Pope County against Yates if they are the opposing canadidates next year. This has created something of a sensation, inasmuch as Rose and Yates were political bedfellows in the factional fight that raged last year, and it was believed they would be together next year. Here in Jackson County the factional fighting always has been bitter. Last year Judge McIlvane was on the Yates side. Yesterday was Yates day, but McIlvaine neglected to appear. But Billy Atkinson, the recent appointee on the State Mining Board, was on hand. Atkinson was appointed over the protest of McIlvaine, and the latter is sulking, if he hasn't partied with Yates. It is believed that Evan John, a State mine examiner, will have to walk the plank, as two good things in the Labor Bureau are believed to be too much for this county.

Frank Joiner of Carbondale is seriously thinking of coming out as a candidate for State Treasurer. He has been on the Yates side in the factional war, 2nd is a strong man.
